Noguchi, Brave Fighter
Buy It, Keep It, Get Rich

Midnight Candidates

THE DEATH of Dr. Noguchi, a courageous Japanese scientist, is a great loss to the world.

Backed by the Rockefeller Institute, Noguchi was a leader in the war against disease, and poverty and misery born of disease.

Yellow fever killed him at last, as he sought for more knowledge in the African yellow fever regions.

Some bronze bandits on horseback should give his high place to Noguchi, whose memory really deserves honor.

When the steamer Columbus landed at Bremerhaven on Monday, eight passengers got into a flying machine and landed in Berlin seven hours ahead of the fast train. And all those passengers in a hurry were American, business men, Americans will fly if you give them the opportunity.

Buy the right thing in America, keep it and you grow rich. For instance, $6000 invested in National City Bank stock 20 years ago is worth $27,000 now. And that is a comparatively small increase.

Fifty dollars invested in General Motors during the war, when Otto H. Kahn advised friends to buy it, is worth $6000 now.

All depends on management. That is, say, on MEN. Investment in a good man and a good organization is the safest.

Increasing prosperity increases the number of American investors. In 15 years they have grown more than 5000 per cent. Fifteen million Americans bought securities in 1927. Fifteen years ago only 500,000 Americans bought securities.

Are you investing money in "investment trusts"? If so, do you know the people that invest your money?

John D. Rockefeller, long ago, was advised to buy stock in a certain company because "the so and so railroad is going to guarantee dividends for 20 years."

"Did he happen to tell you," asked Mr. Rockefeller, "who was going to guarantee that railroad?"

Mr. Wickham warns the Republican politicians against nominating a "midnight candidate," saying "the country is not in any mood to accept another Harding."

Among Republican managers that have "midnight" ideas, even the latest that ever came from a Wall Street hand, there is a vague perception of the fact that a real candidate will be needed with Al Smith.

Wall Street, unhappy yesterday, decides that the four hour day, ending at 3 p. m., is a mistake.

That "3 p. m." in New York is 11 a. m. on the Pacific Coast, too early for business to get well started.

Dr. Max Mason, leaving the Chicago University, is planning to join the Rockefeller Foundation in a year to study "a world free of hunger, poverty and illness, peopled by men understanding the workings of their own minds." Dr. Mason says: "We may even colonize other planets some day."

These planets are "colonized" now, undoubtedly many of them, but he hopes looking in pity upon this poor, sick planet with its plagues, wars and chastises.

CONRAD DEMANDS FULLER PUNISHMENT IN CASE GUILTY

NOBILE'S ITALIA FLIES AGAIN TO PLACE POPE'S CROSS ON WORLD'S TOP

(Copyright by the Associated Press, 1928.)
Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, May 23 (AP)—The dirigible Italia started northward at 4:40 a. m. today across the polar ice cap, with the North Pole, some 750 miles away, as its objective.

Gen. Umberto Nobile, commander of the expedition, landed to land at the pole himself to make explorations and to plant a cross given him by Pope Pius.

This cross was blessed and blessed by St. Francis, the priest of the expedition, just before the start was made. The crew of the Italia witnessed the ceremony.

If a landing at the pole is impossible, Gen. Nobile plans to drop the cross there.

Gen. Nobile had hoped to get away on his third trip over polar regions just before midnight. He Please Turn to Page 5, Column 1.

FOLEY PROBES DEATH OF GIRL IN VICE INQUIRY

The painful death of a 19-year-old girl, just before she was to appear in Superior Court, was being investigated today by representatives of District Attorney William J. Foley in connection with the vice ring probe.

The authorities are also investigating the charge that the girl accused an agent of an illicit society of having "double-crossed" her when she was convicted in Municipal Court.

SOX CALL TARBERT

The injury suffered by Ken Williams in the second game of the Yankees-Rox series, Monday, has caused President Bob Quinn to recall Outfielder Arlie Tarbert from the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League.

The former Ohio State star who was let out less than three weeks ago is expected to report to the club before next Monday.

At present, the Carrigans are badly in need of outfielders as Ken Williams is likely to be out of the game for several days and Denney Williams, who is convalescing after an appendicitis operation, will not be able to play for at least a month.

HUB CLERGYMAN INSISTS THAT PUBLIC HEAR FULL STORY OF 'GAY REVELS'

A straight-from-the-shoulder demand for drastic punishment for the guilty parties in the State House rum scandal, regardless of what high office they may hold, was made today by Dr. A. Z. Conrad, pastor of the Park St. Church.

"Governor Fuller should be the first man to insist on getting this thing wide open," said the noted clergyman.

"The investigation thus far has been unsatisfactory. It does not require an astute mind to know that the removal of liquor from the State House for bibulous purposes has been going on in a shameful manner."

"Let the guilty party or parties be punished, no matter who they are."

This demand followed disclosure of "wild party" in a legislative committee room at the State House, by William M. Forgrave, superintendent Please Turn to Page 2, Column 1.

COOLIDGE VETOES THE M'NARY-HAUGEN BILL

Washington, May 23 (AP)—President Coolidge today vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Thus for the second time in as many years Mr. Coolidge has disapproved a farm plan embodying the principle of subsidizing the acquisition of farm machinery for surplus crop control.

Whether or not it will be any form relief enacted this session now is up to Congress. The House and Senate have a choice of repealing the bill without the qualification for farm relief. The hope of winning Presidential favor, or of attempting enactment of the measure as it stands by overriding Mr. Coolidge's veto.

There is much doubt that the bill, for course would prove successful. The President vetoed the bill on the grounds of constitutional and because "so-called qualification and because other features of the bill measure are still prejudicial in his opinion to sound public policy and to agricultural interests."

The bill as sent to the White House by Congress has been described by its supporters as presenting two "distinct and entirely separate" measures. The first of the proposals for the stabilization and control of surplus agricultural crops would be by means of loans to co-operators at Please Turn to Page 2, Column 4.

of the Massachusetts branch, Anti-Saloon League.

Another demand made by Dr. Conrad was for the ouster of Gen. Alfred P. Folsom, commissioner of public safety and head of the state police, from the hearings now being conducted by the commission on administration and finance into the liquor charges.

Girls are said to have been present and acted as a chorus in the state police is reported to have been limited at the "wild parties" described.

MUST HAVE FULL PROBE

In making his statement today, Dr. Conrad showed he is much aroused over the State House situation, as well as over disclosures regarding the Boston police department, and indicated that he is acting as a standard-bearer for the public of Massachusetts in trying to force thorough, impartial and efficient investigations.

"I have not one feeling of animosity toward a single official in the state," he said, "I am personally prepared to make a statement regarding the correctness of any specific accusations."

"But I have enough evidence to convince me that a straightforward and unbiased investigation is imperative."

"What must be perfectly apparent to what I have stated repeatedly—that no department under suspicion is sufficient to call for an investigation can investigate itself."

"It is a mistake to say that I have asked or hinted upon the removal of anybody until a fair investigation shows that certain officials are culpable and unworthy of the positions they hold."

"The one and only point I am making is that conditions so evidently are such as to require a searching, thorough and honest investigation. I am not a person of a narrow mind. It is bound to secure a square deal for the people."

"It does not require an outside plot to show perfectly well that the removal of liquor from the State House for libelous purposes has been going on in a manifold manner."

Let the guilty parties, no matter who they are, be dealt with in a positive and summary manner.

WOULD CLEAN UP POLICE

"Absolutely the same thing pertains to the police department where the jury has already made its own reflections of culpable conduct."

"The condition of the (Boston) police department is such that it is known that a real cleanup is required for its own sake and the sake of the public."

Governor Folsom should be the first man to insist on cutting this thing wide open. I am sure he will act effectively."

"The investigation up to the present time has been eminently unsatisfactory. It has been superficial and has not been sufficiently effective to satisfy observers of a serious intent to discover the real facts."

There should be no malice in investigation, and personality should not be considered in the least. The one word that sums up the situation is "justice."

clutches of the vice ring after becoming acquainted with the son of a prominent Boston business man. At that time she lived at home in a suburb, and was employed in Boston. She was only 27 years old, blonde and blue-eyed, when the business man's son met her, and began her downward career.

After being introduced to the life of night clubs, the girl began to sneak away from home. She then became acquainted with a runner for the proprietor of a string of disreputable houses, and in a short time gave up her position and her family knew her no more.

"Little Evelyn" became an inmate of one of these houses, and practically a prisoner. After several months there came a break between the runners and the woman in charge, and the girl left. Whether she intended to return to the straight and narrow path could not be learned, but it was determined that agents of the ring were back in the disreputable house was back in the disreputable house.

A while later, on evidence supplied by the agent of the uplift society, the house was raided. The agent is alleged to have found "Little Evelyn" in bed, and to have interrogated himself with her.

The district attorney's investigation could not learn whether she was arrested at that time, but it is on record that "Little Evelyn" did appear in court later, together with several other women inmates of the house.

ACCUSES "UPLIFTER" Convicted in the lower court, the women appeared. On leaving the courtroom, "Little Evelyn" singled out the agent for the uplift society, and in the hearing of a group of persons in the corridor, accused him of having been her sweetheart.

While the case was pending in superior court the girl died in agony in a Boston hospital, ending her underworld career after two brief years.

The district attorney's investigation have checked her presence in houses conducted by the vice ring, and are now at work on the trail of her acquaintance with the uplift society agent.

Sundays Not Rainer Than Other Days; How Can They Be!

New York, May 23 (AP)—The general belief that it rains more on Sundays than at other times is all wrong, James H. Spear, meteorologist of the Government Weather Bureau in New York, told the Traffic Club.

He said the records of his office showed that in the last 25 years it rained only eight more Sundays than Tuesdays.

ACCUSES "UPLIFTER" Convicted in the lower court, the women appeared. On leaving the courtroom, "Little Evelyn" singled out the agent for the uplift society, and in the hearing of a group of persons in the corridor, accused him of having been her sweetheart.

While the case was pending in superior court the girl died in agony in a Boston hospital, ending her underworld career after two brief years.

The district attorney's investigation have checked her presence in houses conducted by the vice ring, and are now at work on the trail of her acquaintance with the uplift society agent.

COOLIDGE VETO FOR FARM BILL

low rates of interest, while the second, in the event the first should fail, would be used for the equalization fee machinery.

The passage of the bill was opposed by practically all the New England congressmen, while ex-Gov. Frank O. Lowden has supported it as one of the principal features of his campaign for the Republican nomination for president.

The objections of the President were summarized by him under these six headings:

"First, its attempted price-fixing policy."

"Second, the tax characteristics of the equalization fee."

"Third, the widespread bureaucracy which it would set up."

"Fourth, its encouragement to profiteering and wasteful distribution by middlemen."

"Fifth, its stimulation of over-production of crops."

"Sixth, its aid to our foreign agricultural competition."

"Don't be late for supper." A simple, witty admonition that the average married man hears two or three times a week—but it brought A. Lewis MacChain, chief pilot of the Boston Airport Corp. from New York through a wall of gray fog and into Boston airport in time to make objections with the evening meal.

MacChain defied the weather, scooped for the sea when he hit the dangerous gray mist at Canton and came up the harbor never higher than 100 feet from the surface of the water.

The rescue, which was sent to the White House in the same envelope with the McNary-Kluger farm relief bill, requires sanction of only five of the seven members of the shipping board for the sale of vessels in private ownership.

Western Republican Independents waged a battle against the bill in the Senate, contending that the House had so changed it as to make it a subsidy proposition.

No witnesses to the accident could be found, but the police broadcast a request that a lookout be kept for a car with bent fenders or broken headlights. It is believed the driver of the death car failed to even slow down after hitting the two boys.

Both boys were knocked unconscious by the machine at Haver's Beach Parkway and Second st. Everett, young Motz being thrown 25 feet.

The accident was revealed by Bradley B. Cogswell of 244 Springfield ave., Everett, who came upon the unconscious form of the Clements boy lying in the road. He took the boy to the Everett police station, from where he was removed to Massachusetts General Hospital.

At the hospital the Clements boy revived and inquired for his car, stating both on their way home when an automobile raced down on them and James knew an injury.

The Everett police were notified and officers went to the scene of the accident, where, tossed on a grass plot, they found the battered and unconscious form of Michael Motz. He never recovered consciousness.

WARD BUYS UP MANHATTAN MARKET

The Manhattan Market in Central sq., one of the most valuable pieces of real estate in Cambridge, was sold today to the Ward Baking Company, according to information from an authoritative source. The purchase price was said to be about $1,000,000. Baking company will take the market over on June 1 and soon afterward five stories will be added to the building.

K. C. RECEIVE BODY OF MGR. M'GIVNEY FROM FRANCE

New York, May 23 (AP)—The body of Mgr. P. J. McGivney of Bridgeport, Ct., late supreme chaplain of the Knights of Columbus, who died May 8 in Paris, arrived today on the liner France. A delegation from Bridgeport, with supreme officers of the Knights and a uniformed guard of honor, met the ship. The Rev. John J. McGivney of New Haven accompanied his brother's body from France. Burial will be in Waterbury, beside the grave of the late Rev. Michael J. McGivney, another brother, who founded the Knights of Columbus.

MOTHER OF 20 WOULD ADD TO FLOCK

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe. She had so many children she didn't know what to do. She gave them some broth without any bread. And whipped them all soundly and sent them to bed.

—Mother Goose Rhymes.

Mrs. Pizzi
40, 35 Fifth st., East Cambridge.

AS A GRANDMOTHER

Her eldest son, Anthony, not yet 19, is already married and has a son a year old. Eleven of the 20 died in infancy. "We are poor, it is true," Mrs. Pizzi said. "But what of it? Many people who have 10 times our income think they are poor. The only thing that matters is to raise as many good citizens as one can. My husband loves children and wants four more—all girls—and I certainly would not want him looked up on that account."

Mrs. Pizzi told how she manages to make $12 a week pay the rent, clothe and feed her large family. "Many weeks in bad weather in winter my husband gets only one or two days work, digging day for builders," she explained. "Then we cannot make much money on his wages so the grocer brings us until he gets steady work again."

$25 A MONTH RENT
"If he works every day we can get by. We pay $12 a month rent for six rooms and $2 a week on our furniture, which cost $200 on the installment plan. We had to drop our insurance because that $2 a week was needed for baby Sticks, the last one."

Mrs. Pizzi keeps a large bottle of soap always on the stove and that helps solve her food problem. "Suits for the five boys and shoes for the girls are my greatest worry. I watch for sales and get coats and other clothes from the second hand stores."

Albany, N. Y., May 23—Bill suffering from nervous exhaustion that caused a 24-hour delay in her second trial, Mrs. Florence E. Knapp, former secretary of Dr. Knapp, today heard herself denounced by Prosecutor George Z. Meade as a "liar, a liar, a schemer and a fraud." Mrs. Knapp is charged with stealing a 1275 census check found in the name of her step-daughter, Clara Blanche Knapp, Vermont college instructor. She also heard three of her relatives, brother, sister and sister-in-law, characterized as "liars." She also heard Meade declare "This woman perpetrated the greatest fraud in the history of the state."

SAFETY HOME TALKS WILL LESSEN ACCIDENTS

It won't take much time to sit down and write a list of Mother's Safety Don'ts to the Boston Evening American and it will have a wonderful effect if you will have the children read your list and read it. This is a contest, with prizes, and this is brought home to the children in connection with the writing of these Don'ts. It will also in and have a lasting impression.

Children have contests, and if they know that if what they are helping mother to write may bring a prize, they will give more thought to the whole safety problem, and that is what we are after. We want to make the child who is naturally curious and thoughtful, CAREFUL AND THOUGHTFUL of his own safety.

It is really remarkable how many mothers are showing interest in this campaign and who express gratitude for it, but we want all the mothers in New England actively interested.

MAKE IT BETTER
Only two children killed last week in all of Massachusetts and NOT ONE IN BOSTON.

THIS IS A WONDERFUL RECORD. And we want to make it better.

We cannot do this unless mothers and teachers keep at the children. We know that repetition gets results, but that is better than having a policeman rap at the door, with a crumpled little form in his arms.

The right spirit is displayed in a letter from Mrs. Elsie H. French of 2 Maple ave., Braintree, who says in part:

Although I have but one child, Dorothy, ten years old, the thought of possible accidents that may happen or even take her away from me, increases me to read in my little contribution of Safety Don'ts.

It is such a tragedy—an accident caused by simple carelessness—can sure this very wonderful campaign will help much to do with teaching children the LESSON OF CAUTION which is so necessary in this age of haste and hustle.

The Boston Evening American does so much for humanity in general—and this Safety Drive is sure to bring results, I know. I wish your newspaper and the ideas it is trying to instill in all minds, both young and old, the sooner it is made a habit.

Here we have the anxious mother who dreads from what she sees or reads. Mrs. French knows that little children are being misled and killed, and she does not want her little Dorothy to be one of them.

Not only that but Mrs. French, to avoid mistakes and to prevent action by taking POSITIVE ACTION by preaching DON'TS to Dorothy.

For the convenience of residents of Norwell and vicinity, the Boston Automobile Club will conduct two brake tests, under the authority of the registrar of motor vehicles, in that city, today and Tuesday.

The location of the testing ground will be the Northern Artery, between Broadway and Myrtle avenues. Hours will be from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

NEW HOME FOR BUICK SERVICE

The erection of a new automobile service building in Boston to be the largest in New England for the servicing of Buick cars was announced at a luncheon by H. Coyne, president of the Buick Buick Company, to officials of this organization. It is expected ground breaking for the new building will take place within the next few weeks.

The building will have a floor area of approximately 24,000 square feet, will be of reinforced concrete, two stories with a basement that will have natural light for three quarters of its area, and a partial third story for recreational purposes for members of the organization.

This building will be located at 23 St. Paul st., opposite the Commonwealth Armory.

One of the features of the building will be the two parallel straight ramps each more than 10 feet wide, in the center, running from the basement to the second floor.

Another feature will be the hotel lobby arrangement for offices and reception room on the first floor.

$150.00 Reward for Best "Don'ts" on Safety

The Boston Evening American is offering 15 cash prizes for the most effective sets of ten "Mothers' Safety Don'ts" to guard children from the auto peril.

The first prize will be $30, second $15, third $10, and there will be 10 $1 prizes.

Awards will be made on common sense, practical views, rather than for literary effect.

The judges are Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller, wife of the governor; Capt. George A. Parker, registrar of motor vehicles; Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson and Assistant Superintendent Augustus L. Butler of the Boston public schools.

Kindly write your "Don'ts" on a separate sheet, using one side of the paper, in your left hand state number of children and ages. Write legibly and include name and address. Fill out letters to Editor Mothers' Safety Don'ts, Boston Evening American, Boston, Mass.

Write early. Remember the contest is already under way. We want to hear from all the mothers.

PIAZZA-CLIMBING BURGLARS GET $925

Climbing up two piazzas in Beacon st., burglars today stole six pieces of jewelry valued at $925 and broke open a child's bank, stealing $2. The thefts were in the home of Abraham Salwin.

BOSTON BUSINESS LEADER PRAISES $1 INSURANCE

Charles G. Burleigh, a director of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and sales representative of the General Electric Company at Boston, is a booster for the Boston Evening American's offer of a $1,000 accident insurance policy for $1 a year.

C. G. Burleigh

Burleigh believes in insurance. He is insured, and he is so enthusiastically over the Boston Evening American's offer of a $1,000 accident insurance policy for $1 a year that he is inclined to add out of the bottom of his collection.

"It is not so much the question of dollars and cents that the Boston Evening American's insurance policy represents that attracts me to the proposition, but it is the idea of insurance caused through the thousands of accidents by providing insurance with reach of everyone," says Mr. Burleigh.

"A ship will not put to sea without anchors and cable, nor will a railroad train go over the rails without a red lantern. Yet thousands of men and women crowd our highways more dangerous than ever through the increasing use of the automobile, without a penny's worth of insurance. Insurance is protection. No one should be without it.

A PUBLIC SERVICE

"The Boston Evening American in making this offer of a $1,000 accident insurance policy for $1 a year in connection with its auto campaign is, in my mind, performing a wonderful act of public service, and should be commended for nothing when this plan of providing low cost protection for the people of New England. Surely with the Boston Evening American providing $1,000 worth of accident insurance for $1 a year no one can honestly say that he or she cannot afford to be insured. They owe it to themselves and those dependent upon them to have some form of protection when death and accidents come."

Other prominent men and women of Boston realize the value of the Boston Evening American's insurance-at-cost offer and the effort of the Boston Evening American to make a substantial contribution to the cause of safety and protection. Many of them have already told of their desire to become holders of the policy providing $1,000 worth of accident insurance for $1 a year.

TO MINIMIZE ACCIDENTS

Every mail is bringing hundreds of coupon applications for the best insurance from people all over New England. The number is increasing every day as the people realize the significance of the Boston Evening American's offer of protecting the insured and their dependents as a part of its safety campaign.

Why is the Boston Evening American distributing this accident insurance at cost? One applicant said:

"THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN IS DISTRIBUTING THIS INSURANCE POLICY AS A PART OF ITS EFFORT TO DECREASE THE NUMBER OF ACCIDENTS IN NEW ENGLAND AND TO AID THOSE WHO SUFFER AS A RESULT OF SUCH ACCIDENTS."

Every penny of the $1 cost of the $1,000 policy goes to the insurance company issuing the policy, the Boston Evening American bearing the additional expense of editorial work and postage.

Pig Saves Own Bacon by Squealing to Police

Chicago, May 22 (AP)—The pig's squeal, long lamented as the only portion of a porker for which no utilitarian purpose has been found, has come into its own.

It became a police alarm, summoning officers to 30th and Throop sts., where they found three men trying to put a pig in an automobile.

"Lead us a hand," said Jack Crowley, one of the three, to the officers. "This is my uncle's pig and I want to take it home."

"How could you tell," inquired

Sergeant Michael Conway, "that out of 15,000 pigs in that pen this one was Emily?"

"If she isn't Emily she's very much like her," was the reply.

"I bet you won't know the difference."

The officers then put the pig back into the pen and the three men.

The three later explained that "the girls" had offered to cook some bacon for them if they could bring home some.

"How could we know?" asked Crowley, "that one pig's squealing would start the whole 15,000 yelling for the police?"

Weather conditions were good today when the dirigible Italia started for the North Pole region.

Address received here said the course of the Italia would be due north as far as latitude 33 and then in the direction of the North Pole.

2 WESTPHALIA PASSENGERS IN LIFE QUESTS

Bound home to Germany to pass the rest of her life, a 40-year resident of Cohasset had passage booked for today's special sailing of the Hamburg-American liner Westphalia, leaving Commonwealth pier at 2 p. m.

And an Irish violinist booked passage on the same ship, with his wife and eight-year-old son, in an effort to avert death through the misadventures of Irish doctors.

The Cohasset resident is Mrs. Rosa Kesselmann, well known in the South Shore town during all her childhood.

"I am going back to Germany to pass the rest of my days," she said when she arrived at the pier to board the liner.

Martin Walsh, the youthful Irish violinist, and a sufferer from an ailment which the American physicians have been able to diagnose, will seek treatment by Irish doctors, he said, when he reached the gangplank with Mrs. Walsh and their son John.

Other passengers included Willie Laur, goalie for the Victoria Sports Club soccer team of Boston, bound on a visit to his relatives in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. August H. Menslage and daughter of East Boston, who will take the baths at Hohen Lagen, Germany, four-year-old John Sheehan, Jr., son of a State Prison guard, and his mother, bound for Ireland on a visit to relatives, and Col. and Mrs. James Cady, Col. Cady formerly was finance officer at the Army Base in South Boston.

M. E. BANNON PREPAREDNESS

Kansas City, May 22 (AP)—A resolution stating "the agencies of our church shall not be used in preparation for war" has been adopted by the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here.

The resolution, specifying that "the agencies of the church shall be used in preparation for peace, in preparation for war leads to war."

Received the support of nearly two-thirds of the 400 more delegates.

It also called on the President of the United States "to prepare for another conference of nations to secure more drastic reduction of armament of every kind," and urged churchmen to "secure the participation of their respective governments in an effective association of nations which shall undertake to remove the cause of war and secure the whole world into the ways of peace."

SHIP LINE IS ASKED TO TAKE BREMEN TO N. Y.

St. John's, N. F., May 22 (AP)—The management of the Newfoundland government railway announced today that it had been requested by the North German Lloyd Steamship Company for aid in removing the monomane Bremen from the vicinity of Greenly Island.

The captain of the railway's steamship, scheduled to sail from Bay of Islands tomorrow for ports in Belle Isle Strait, has been instructed to take the Bremen aboard, if possible, bringing the plane back to Bay of Islands for shipment to New York.

SECOND WOMAN DIES IN CROSSING CRASH

Milford, May 22—Mrs. Margaret Towner of Brockton died in Milford Hospital today of injuries suffered in the collision at Bellingham between a passenger bus and an automobile containing delegates to the Catholic Order of Foresters convention at Pittsfield.

Nella P. O'Brien, of Brockton, was killed almost instantly in the crash.

things to understand about used car allowances

- 1 When you trade in your used car for a new car, you are first of all making a purchase, not a sale. You are simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of the new car.
- 2 Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value; i. e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 3 Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 4 The largest allowance is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 5 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 6 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in the allowances offered on your used car.

CORRECT MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN
DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Will you please tell me what to say when I am being introduced to anyone?

How long should a person wait before answering a formal or informal letter? IGNORANT.

"How do you do?" is always correct to use when acknowledging an introduction. To be on the safe side, especially if you are at all self-conscious use this phrase.

A formal letter of invitation should be answered at once—within 24 hours, if possible. An informal letter should be answered as soon as convenient, depending on circumstances.

A. M.—An escort would be appropriate.

JULIA—For afternoon wedding not a Tuxedo. Bridesmaid may wear dress-blue dress.

M. R. G.—No on sealing wax and the form also correct.

what makes husbands cross?

You know how it is. When sleep is lost, next day has to pay. Jumpy nerves, sluggish heads—short tempers naturally follow. That's the trouble with coffee for so many people. It contains caffeine—the drug that upsets sleep and nerves.

There's one coffee, though, that lets you sleep. Kaffee Hag Coffee is 97% free of caffeine. Only the drug has been removed. You could never tell it—except for sounder sleep and better feelings. Delicious coffee! How much better than cheerless substitutes!

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

We are two students, 19 years of age. We are desperately in love with a pair of twins, 23 years of age, who are also attending college. They are very handsome and are of good character. They claim to be "sweet bakers." We have never tried to flirt with them.

Will you please tell us whether it would be proper for us to invite the twins to an informal party at one of our homes?

On you believe in using "Leap Year" tactics?

Is it proper for a girl to do this during the 11th?

We are in love with these young men, but we do not want to let them know we are like some of the "leap" girls.

"Leap" girls. Now can we win their love?

TWO PAIRS OF BLUE EYES. What a long list of questions, girls! But I will do my best to answer them for you.

Are you acquainted with the young men you mention in your letter? If not, you will naturally prefer to begin the acquaintance by an introduction, which I have no doubt you can manage to bring about without obviously seeking it too eagerly.

Try to interest them by friendly conversation, subjects about which they are enthusiastic. If they respond cordially to your friendly interest, by all means invite them to an informal party at your home. It is foolish for you to feel you are in love with these young men you know so slightly. If you show signs of sentimentality you will probably drive them away from you, for men prefer to be the initiative in such matters. If you are wise and sensible you will try to establish a wholesome friendship before even thinking about deeper emotions.

No, I do not believe in Leap Year tactics. They are seldom successful, because they are opposed to both masculine and feminine natural instincts. For the same reason I do not believe in "dating" men, although it is, of course, entirely justifiable to show friendly interest in young men you like and invite them to your home.

Of 1286 Brides 1240 told us this...

Lovely hands... will they stay lovely, in spite of housekeeping cares?

A WHOLE week's "crop" of new brides—in 11 cities—more than 1,200 of them—told us their home-making plans.

Each plan was different, of course. But on one thing these brides were agreed.

They are going to take up housekeeping as a job which requires intelligence and skill. Yet one to be filled without sacrificing charm and GOOD-LOOKS.

And 96 out of 100 of these brides have decided on one way to do this—

Because they know—from using Lux to wash their own fine things—how white and soft Lux makes their hands, they plan to use only Lux for all DISHES, all cleaning their hands have to do.

As experienced housekeepers know, many household soaps—flakes, chips and cakes—are made in the old-fashioned way. They contain harmful alkali that dries up the skin, coarsening and aging it.

There is no injurious alkali in Lux. Made by a remarkable process—Lux actually SOOTHES the skin, leaves it whiter and softer than before.

And instant, sparkling Lux suds are so rich and cleansing that the dishes seem almost to wash themselves! Lux for dishes COSTS LITTLE, because the big package washes six weeks' dishes! Lovely hands for so small a price!

Where cities are—Detroit, Chicago, St. Paul, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Providence, Denver, Cincinnati, St. Louis.

Lux keeps lovely the hands that wash dishes

A PLEASANT PROCK FOR A GIRL. A simple, girlish and grace are expressed in this pretty model. It has attractive shirring over the center of the skirt, below a narrow belt, which may be replaced by a ribbon sash.

The short sleeve portions are cut in one with the body of the dress. A neat collar finishes the neck edge. Printed voile in brown and orange tones with orange crepe or voile for collar and belt was used to develop this design.

Another pleasing combination would be crepe de chine or dainty with collar in a matched color and a sash of ribbon.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. To make the Dress for a 6-year size will require 2 yards of 44-inch material together with 1/2 yard of contrasting material for facing on collar and belt.

“Hear No Evil—See No Evil—Speak No Evil”

BY ALFRED ALOYSIUS HORN
Edited by
ETHELREDA LEWIS

DRAWN BY Nell Brinkley

A black and white illustration in an Art Deco style. It depicts two women and a cherub. The woman on the left has voluminous, curly hair and is wearing a dress with a large, fringed collar and a large, stylized leaf or feather design on the bodice. She is holding a cigarette to her lips. The woman on the right has straight, dark hair with bangs and is wearing a dress with a bold, geometric pattern. She is covering her mouth with her hands, looking directly at the viewer. To the left of the first woman is a small cherub with wings, also holding a cigarette. The entire scene is enclosed within a decorative border of stylized flowers and leaves. The illustration uses bold lines and cross-hatching for shading.

Have You a Clear Young Skin?

It is useless to make your complexion beautiful if you do not have regular use of pure mercorized wax. Procure an ounce from your druggist and use it daily. It will quickly but gently peel off all the grime, wither, and wrinkles of the face, as well as freckles, pimples, blackheads and blotches. It will also remove the scales and the face is younger and smoother. It is the best skin treatment ever brought out by the human mind. It is the only skin treatment that will age less. Use an ounce bottle. It comes in a box of 12 for 25 cents.

PRETTY red tongues and the bright eyes that watch them waggle, and the shell-pink ears that hear them clanking, seem far from the bed word, EVIL. But sometimes they are all tied up together in a dangerous bundle. Bomb-like—capable of all sorts of wreckage. A pretty red tongue, a pair of bright, bawling eyes, and a pithy, snappy, and sometimes wide-ranging night and wordly tear for somebody.

One of the loveliest things that a girl can have, after virtue and a sense of her own kindness. And kindness is a lovely thing, too. It means keeping your own anguished when you are in a lively battle of other girls engaged in drowning a reviles reputation on the beach.

"—EVIL is wrought by want of thought as well as want of heart." When you first cock an eye at that it doesn't sound true. For, you may say, if I don't think of my own feelings, I can't think of the feelings of lavah talking of personalities, a moment of talkative thought-

SUMMER IS BEARING DOWN UPON US. This is the time we are going about taking our summer clothes. Some climbing mountains, or long hikes through woods, trails. They are too many all the fun and sport that goes with it. We go to the country and we wait comfortable, happy feet to carry us through our happiest days in the year. For free days are rare days. Thus it is perhaps necessary for you to think of your feet and have a few treatments for corns and calluses before you go away. Write to me and I will tell you how to do the summer at your convenience.

HAS YOUR BUDGET BEEN stretched to its utmost limit? Has your spending power been exhausted? If so, you must not shut just yet. There is to go have your fur coat for over next winter let me know for I know where you can get it remodelled at a very reasonable price. The coat is created into a smart coat. After it is done this shop will put it in storage for you and you can pay for it in the fall for during the summer at your convenience.

PINK TIPPED like the soft pink of apple blossoms that come in springing your lovely hands bare. Beautiful hands and perfect white skin are necessities for beauty. Is if you use some daily manure products faithfully. It gives you the perfect care of our hands for they express our personality.

ARE YOU WONDERING whether it would be better to use pastel shades for your eyebrows, dresses or one color? There is a shop here in town at which you may buy your wedding dress and the dresses of all our bridesmaids, beautiful and well dressed. Let me know for I know where you can get that they have hats, coats and lovely frocks and you can save by buying for your friends without leaving the shop. Let me know if you are interested. The prices of these goods are very low indeed.

DO YOU HAVE FRAGRANCE of a face powder I know is truly delicate. It comes in five shades—Flesh, Brunette, White, Peach and Egyptian Flesh. It adheres to the face and does not dry up. It is very good for the most sensitive skin because it contains no harmful ingredients. It is sold at $2.50 a box.

MANY PEOPLE are interested in a Dandruff cure. There is a sulphur compound of rare perfection. In curing dandruff from your hair, it also cures itching scalp. It is very bringing about a luxuriant growth. It is very good for those who prefer a saive rather than a liquid lotion. Price $1 and 50c per bottle.

A MAN is as old as he feels and a woman as old as she looks. This question is asked often. Actually the case women should not allow themselves to grow old. That is why when they may have a scientific treatment that will make them ten years younger you can tell you where to find one about this.

Enclose a 2x6 stamp with your name and address and I can give you the information on the above mentioned items.

DRIVING "ROPP"

It cost him at least one bad night and murning found them hagered from loss of sleep and weak from the nervous strain.

Now, the probable cause for all his illness was because they also smoked both which had been cured on a jolks that had remained too long without changing, had become "ropp" as it is known in trade circles.

Thus the important point in his story.

When you purchase cigs, be sure that the brand from which it is taken is clean and sweet. Any suspicious odor is cause for immediate rejection.

Further than that, should meet not so far as to be on your table, there are no profits in making generalities. If illness is going along with your eating after a tainted condition it will too plainly indicated in the cooking.
